The Lamborghini Huracan Evo is a sharper, more focused version of the Huracan. Featuring improvements to aerodynamic efficiency through a new front splitter, rear diffuser, revisions to the underbody and a ducktail spoiler, as well as the introduction of the LDVI central super-computer to monitor everything about the chassis and powertrain. With 640bhp produced from the naturally aspirated 5.2 litre V10 engine, the Huracan Evo can accelerate from 0-62mph in just 2.9s and has a top speed of 202mph.
